

Curriculum Vitae Marie-Cécile Gruselle

Education

- 2003-2009:* PhD degree at the Institute of Silviculture, Albert-Ludwigs University of Freiburg, Germany. Title of PhD thesis: Litter decomposition in mixed spruce-beech stands. Supervisors: Prof. Dr. Jürgen Bauhus, Prof. Dr. Ernst Hildebrand, Dr. Björn Berg.
- Fall 2001:* Advanced Diploma in Sustainable Forest Management at the University of Quebec in Abitibi-Temiscamingue (UQAT) and at the University of Quebec in Montreal (UQAM), Canada.
- 1997-2002:* Agricultural Engineer, specialization Forestry, at Gembloux Agricultural University, Belgium. Title of thesis “Etude des potentialités de production de chênes de qualité en Ardenne belge” (Study of the production potential of high-quality oaks in the Belgian Ardennes).

Professional experience

- Autumn 2009* Research stay at the Department of Wildland Resources, Utah State University, USA, funded by the German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD).
- Spring-Summer 2009:* Research Assistant, Institute of Silviculture, University of Freiburg, Germany.
- 2003-2009:* PhD Research Fellow, Institute of Silviculture, University of Freiburg, funded by the German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD) and the Elisabeth-Frickenhaus-Stiftung (University of Freiburg).
- Summer 2003:* Internship at the European Observatory of Mountain Forests, Chambéry, Savoy, France.
- Winter-Spring 2003:* Research Assistant, Gembloux Agricultural University, Belgium.

Member of the Soil Science Society of America